

Administering a Secure Network

- aggregation switch - used to combine multiple network connections into a single link; should be used between routers and servers
- correlation engine - correlates data from various sources to identify attack; should be in a protected network
- DDoS mitigator - real-time combats DDoS attacks; should be used where there's the most throughput
- data execution prevention - Windows feature for preventing buffer overflows